General Michael V. Hayden Joins National Interest Security Company and DC Capital Boards

Fairfax, VA - April 22, 2009. National Interest Security Company, LLC (NISC), a company controlled by DC Capital Partners, LLC, announced today that General Michael Hayden, former Director of the Central Intelligence Agency has joined the NISC Board of Directors. He joins other distinguished independent Directors including former Senator Chuck Hagel, General Tony Zinni, General Michael Hagee, Ambassador Henry Crumpton, VADM Stephen Loftus, and Kara Bue.

Thomas J. Campbell, President of DC Capital Partners and Chairman of NISC, said, "There are few individuals with greater stature in the intelligence community than General Hayden. The breadth of his experience across both the military and the intelligence community gives him a unique perspective on our nation's requirements. We are extremely honored to have him join our team."

Andrew Maner, Chief Executive Officer of NISC, said, "We could not be more pleased General Hayden is joining our Board of Directors. No one has more insight into the threats we face and the capabilities we need to combat those threats than General Hayden. We look forward to his leadership and guidance as we focus on providing the best possible solutions to our customers."

General Hayden has a long and distinguished career in the US Air Force and in the intelligence community. Prior to becoming Director of the Central Intelligence Agency, General Hayden was the Principal Deputy Director of National Intelligence, the first person to serve in that position. General Hayden also served as Director, National Security Agency, and Chief, Central Security Service.

General Hayden has served as Commander of the Air Intelligence Agency and as Director of the Joint Command and Control Warfare Center. He has also served in senior staff positions at the Pentagon, Headquarters U.S. European Command, National Security Council and the U.S. Embassy in the People's Republic of Bulgaria. The general has also served as Deputy Chief of Staff, United Nations Command and U.S. Forces Korea.

In addition to serving on the NISC Board of Directors General Hayden will also serve on the DC Capital Board of Advisors. The Board's purpose is to assist DC Capital in their investment process and includes other prominent individuals such as The Honorable Rich Armitage, former Deputy Secretary of State, General Tony Zinni, General Mike Hagee, Ambassador Hank Crumpton, VADM Steve Loftus, and Jeffery Smith, Senior Partner at Arnold and Porter.
